'Kingsway' is now history and a new era has begun in the form of 'Kartavya Path': PM

"Netaji Subhash was the first head of Akhand Bharat, who freed Andaman before 1947 and hoisted the Tricolor": PM

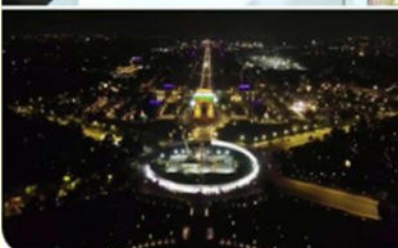

New Delhi, Sept. 8

Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi today inaugurated the 'Kartavya Path' - a stretch of the Central Vista from the Rashtrapati Bhavan to India Gate. He also unveiled the statue of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose at India Gate.

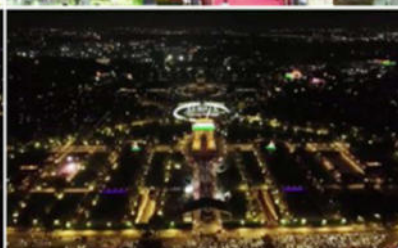

Speaking on the occasion, Prime Minister said, India has received new energy and inspiration today as nation is breaking free of the shackles of colonisation during the 'Amrit Kaal'. Congratulating the people of India for shedding yet another symbol of colonialism, the Prime Minister said 'Kingsway' is now history and a new era has begun in the form of Kartavya Path. He emphasised that Rajpath was for the British for whom the people of India were slaves and was a symbol of colonialism. He expressed pride that its architecture has changed and its spirit has also changed.

Appreciating the hard work of the Shramjivees who worked for redeveloped Central Vista, he invited them as his special guests on next year's Republic Day. He said, history has been rewritten as the huge statue of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose has been installed near the India Gate where a statue of a representative of the Britishers

used to stand during British rule. He added that with the installation of the statue, a new path has been established for an empowered India.

Highlighting the many decisions taken by his Government in the last eight years which had the imprint of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, Prime Minister stressed that Netaji was the first head of 'Akhand Bharat' who unfurled the National Flag in the Andaman & Nicobar Islands. He pointed out that his Government has changed various laws that were there since the time of the British. Underlining the importance of National Education Policy, Prime Minister said the nation's youth are being liberated from the compulsion of foreign language.

Recalling the sacrifice and valour of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, Prime Minister said, India's glorious history runs as life blood among nation's youth. He said, India would have reached unprecedented heights, if the country had followed the vision of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose.

CIARI scientists re-describe a taxonomically cryptic freshwater fish species from Isles

Port Blair, Sept. 8

A team of scientists led by ICAR-Central Island Agricultural Research Institute (CIARI), Port Blair under the technical guidance of Dr. Eaknath B. Chakurkar, Director, ICAR-CIARI has redescribed a new species Sicyopterus garra from the Andaman Islands. The species was first described in late 1925 by an imminent ichthyologist Dr. Sundar Lal Hora from the type locality Brichgunj. Due to the taxonomically cryptic nature, the species was merged with Sicyopterus microcephalus, a species known from South-East Asia.

For more than 90 years, the name Sicyopterus garra remained invalid and was not used by researchers. A team of scientists, J. Praveenraj, Dr. R. Kiruba-Sankar, and Dr. K. Saravanan of ICAR-CIARI in collaboration with the French Museum, Paris, Zoological Survey of India, Kolkata and Thackeray Wildlife foundation, Mumbai investigated live specimens with DNA studies and confirmed Sicyopterus garra from the Andaman to be unique and endemic to these Islands.

This discovery is remarkable, as this is the third endemic freshwater fish species to be described from the Andaman Islands. The study was published in the Journal of Fish Biology (Wiley- Blackwell), a reputed journal from The Fisheries Society of the British Isles, a press release received from CIARI said.
