

Comprehensive Primary Health Care facility to Islanders through Health & Wellness Centres

UT Administration achieves saturation of target set by GoI for operationalization of HWCs

All 129 HWCs approved by MoH&FW made functional

Staff Reporter

Port Blair, Dec.13

Comprehensive Primary Health Care (CPHC) is vital in the primary and secondary prevention of several disease conditions, including non-communicable which not only reduces morbidity, disability and mortality but also reduces the cost of secondary and tertiary care. In line with this, the UT Administration endeavors to provide health care at the doorstep of the citizens under Ayushman Bharat Health & Wellness Centres. Under the scheme, the Health Department of UT has further strengthened its existing Health Sub Centres and PHCs/UHCs into Health & Wellness Centres (HWCs). The objective of developing the Health Institutions into HWCs is basically identified as peripheral outpost which will provide health care needs to the people living in remote/challenging areas. The HWCs are not only taking care of primary health of citizens, but also provides testing facilities at the Centre and also renders specialized services for non-communicable critical diseases with availability of requisite drugs/medicines.

It is to mention that the Health Department has made 80 HWCs functional in the first phase and second phase, while 49 Health facilities, 38 Sub Centres & 5 PHCs under National Health Mission and 6 Sub Centres under Mission were inaugurated by the Hon'ble Home Minister, Shri Amit Shah during his recent visit to these Islands on Oct. 16, 2021.

With this, the A&N UT has made all the 129 Health and Wellness Centres (HWCs) functional

Dweep CIARI Brinjal 1

Brinjal (Solanum melongena L.) is an important vegetable crop of Andaman and Nicobar Islands and cultivated round the year. Bacterial wilt of brinjal caused by Ralstonia solanacearum is a severe disease, which cause yield loss from 20 to 50 per cent. This disease has risen to alarming proportion in Bay islands and rest of the country. Most of the commercial varieties or hybrids grown are highly susceptible to this disease. ICAR-Central Island Agricultural Research Institute, Port Blair has developed a bacterial wilt resistant brinjal variety Dweep CIARI Brinjal 1 which gives 25-30 t/ha fruit yield. Plants are medium tall with profuse branching. Fruits are light green in colour and oblong in shape with less seeds and is resistant to Bacterial wilt disease. This variety also exhibited moderate drought tolerance ability during water stress situations, thus it is recommended for growing during dry season (October to May) in islands conditions.

Benefit: More yield per unit area (25-30 t/ha). Fruits are big, glossy with less seeds.
