No political price yet

It's nice to hear voices singing a different tune. Once-upon-a-time Chief Economic Adviser, Dr Arvind Subramanian is, currently, a Senior Fellow at the Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at the Brown University. He has excellent academic credentials and is a prolific writer. In an article in Foreign Affairs in December, Dr Subramanian has found fault with the economic policies of the government going under the tagline Atmanirbhar Bharat. Dr Subramanian's top three concerns are subsidies, protectionism and shunning of regional trade agreements. His other concerns include suspect data, anti-federalism, majoritarianism and undermining of independent institutions. He has, unwittingly, let out the reasons why he left the government in 2018 after nearly four years when the government was happy to continue with him. He was not happy and perhaps anticipated that things will become worse. Things have indeed become worse. The average tariff that was about 12 per cent under the UPA government has now increased to 18 per cent. There is indiscriminate use of safeguard duties, anti-dumping duties and non-tariff measures. India walked away from multilateral trade agreements that would have enormously benefited the country. It is ironic that while Mr Narendra Modi is eager to enter into politico-defence multilateral pacts (G20, COMCASA, QUAD, the Second QUAD, RELOS), he is averse to trade agreements. And once-upon-a-time economic adviser is also disenchanted with Mr Modi's economic policies. Dr Arvind Panagariya is currently Professor of Economics at Columbia University and was Vice-Chairperson of the Niti Aayog, in a recent article in The Economic Times, he sang the praises of the government but kept the sting in the tail. He wrote: "... it must open the economy wider through free trade agreements as well as roll back high tariffs, fix the higher education system by replacing the archaic University Grants Commission Act of 1956 by a modern law, and broaden the bases of both direct and indirect taxes. Privatization of PSUs must be accelerated and of PSBs begun." Apart from the fact that Dr Arvind Subramanian and Dr Arvind Panagariya were government insiders' until a few years ago, both are liberal economists, teach in reputed academic institutions, and are supporters of the private sector-led model. While they do not hesitate to identify the shortcomings of the economic policies, they are reluctant to list the disastrous consequences of such shortcomings. While the people bear the economic price of the wrong policies and their consequences, the Modi government has not yet been called to bear the political price. In any other liberal democracy, the home-bound trek of millions of poor workers without money, food or medicines; the shocking shortage of oxygen, hospital beds, medicines, ambulances and even space in crematoriums and burial grounds; the uncounted and uncounted deaths of millions due to Covid-19; the thousands of bodies left to float on the Ganga or left on its banks; the callous neglect of the education of millions of children when the schools were ordered to be shut; and the rising number of unemployed youth, would have challenged the government's survival. Here, the government carries on nonchalantly, shuts down debate in Parliament, pursues Luddite policies, and dazzles the people with State-sponsored religious spectacles. Meanwhile, inequality grows, along with inequity and injustice. The World Inequality Report 2022 authored by L Chancel, T Piketty et al has estimated that the top 10 per cent of the adult population of India garners 57 per cent of the national income and the bottom 50 per cent only 13 per cent. The top 1 per cent gets 22 per cent of the national income. The Oxfam Report released last Sunday endorsed those bleak conclusions and stated that the top 10 per cent holds 77 per cent of the nation's wealth. The number of Indian billionaires grew from 102 to 142 while 84 per cent of households suffered decline in their income in 2021. The billionaires' wealth increased from Rs 23.14 lakh crore in March 2020 to Rs 53.16 lakh crore in November 2021 while more than 4,60,00,000 fell into extreme poverty. The Budget (2022-23) is a few days away. It would be a tragedy if the government believed its Teflon-coated and need not change course. The threat of paying a political price is the only deterrent to an uncaring government.

He also interacted with few patients in the wards where during the interaction of the patients they demanded the CT scan availability in CHC Diglipur, Ultra Sound for Patients other than pregnant women and non availability of physiotherapist. He informed by the CMO that as CT scan needs a Sonologist/Radiologist who lacks in CHC Diglipur. But once in a month Sonologist visits CHC Diglipur from RP Hospital Mayabunder for doing ultrasound for antenatal mothers. General public also complained the MP about short of strength about Ward boys, ayah, attenders, assistants etc. About the availability of the Oxygen in case of outbreak of COVID, MP was updated about the newly installed Central Oxygen supply line in wards with above 95% purity of Oxygen.

"I Bow To Netaji...": PM To Launch Republic Day Celebrations Today

Netaji Birthday: PM Modi has said that till the time the work for the "grand statue" of Netaji -- made of granite -- is completed, a hologram statue would be installed at the same place.

In a first, India will begin Republic Day celebrations from January 23 instead of January 24, to include the birth anniversary of late freedom fighter Netaji

Subhas Chandra Bose. To commence the celebrations of Republic Day, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, on the occasion of Netaji's 125th birth anniversary, will unveil the hologram statue of the freedom fighter at India Gate in Delhi on Sunday at around 6 pm. The Prime Minister has said that till the time the work for the "grand statue" of Netaji, made of granite, is completed, a hologram statue would be installed at the same place. The hologram statue will be powered by a 30,000 lumens 4K projector. An invisible, high gain, 90 per cent transparent photographic screen has been erected in such a way so that it is not visible to visitors. The 3D image of Netaji will be projected on it to create the effect of a hologram. The size of the hologram statue is 28 feet in height and 6 feet in width, according to a statement issued by Prime Minister's Office. During the programme, the Prime Minister will also confer the Subhas Chandra Bose Aapda Prabandhan Puraskars, for the years 2019, 2020, 2021 and 2022 in the investiture ceremony. A total of seven awards will be presented during the ceremony. Union government has instituted the annual Subhas Chandra Bose Aapda Prabandhan Puraskar to recognize and honour the invaluable contribution and selfless service rendered by individuals and organisations in India in the field of disaster management. The award is announced every year on January 23. The award carries a cash prize of ₹ 51 lakh and a certificate in case of an institution and ₹ 5 lakh and a certificate in case of an individual. The government last year declared that Subhas Chandra Bose's birth anniversary will be celebrated as 'Parakram Diwas' every year. Born to advocate Janakinath Bose in Odisha's Cuttack on January 23, 1897, Netaji went on to play a key role in the freedom movement. He is also known for establishing the Azad Hind Fauj. Republic Day is celebrated annually on January 26 every year. As per sources, the Republic Day celebrations will end on January 30, the day Mahatma Gandhi was assassinated. Promoted to listen to the latest songs, only on JioSaavn.com. Meanwhile, as a tribute to Subhas Chandra Bose, the Films Division will be screening two documentaries on his life, indomitable spirit and selfless service to the nation today, said Ministry of Information and Broadcasting. The biopics will be streamed on Films Division website and YouTube Channel, for 24 hours. The documentaries are: 'The Flame Burns Bright' (1973/Ashish Mukherjee) and 'Netaji' (1973/Arun Chaudhuri) which highlight the great leader's life and his heroic and relentless fight for India's independence from the British rule. The film Netaji uses the actual speeches of Netaji, synched with his voice.

The facility to access this room has been developed by making a new route other than the main gate in the prison. In this passage, colorful flowers have been planted on both sides. In this regard, with the initiative of the Madhya Pradesh government, this will be the first Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose museum in the state and the second in the country. Citizens will not have to pay any charges to visit the museum and the prison cell of Netaji. A museum has been established in New Delhi in the memory of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose since 2019. Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose's statue has been installed near the newly constructed Subhash Nagar Railway Over Bridge in Bhopal. Along with this, the play 'I am Subhash' is also being staged in Shaheed Bhawani in collaboration with the Department of Culture in Bhopal. This initiative also assumes significance for Madhya Pradesh because Prime Minister Modi has announced the installation of a statue of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose near India Gate in New Delhi. Many steps have been taken in the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, paying obeisance to the heroes of the Indian freedom struggle. In this series, the work of installing statues by the nation that is grateful to Netaji Subhas

Chandra Bose and development of Subhash Ward in Jabalpur Jail will prove to be historic. Subhash Ward will inspire patriotism Subhash Ward located in Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose Central Jail Jabalpur is being developed as a Prerana Sthal for patriotism and is being opened for the general public. A separate passage and entrance has been made here. There will also be a reception room for visitors in the Subhash Ward. The jail administration has prepared a documentary film, which focuses on Netaji's sacrifice and life's struggle. In collaboration with the Public Works Department, the artists and laborers in the prison have done the renovation work of Subhash Ward and the decoration of the premises. Subhash Ward will be open for visitors every Saturday and Sunday from 10 am to 2.30 pm. At present, in view of Covid infection, the visitors have been instructed to bring their IDs along with following the necessary protocol. Along with this, they have been requested to follow the necessary safety rules. They will be sent to jail. Chief Minister Shri Chouhan said that those who bungee around of the poor should be arrested along with FIR. The District Collector should get all the ration shops in the district checked. Those who are dishonest should not be spared. Public distribution system should be transparent. The ration distribution of the poor should be done by the Anydoya a Samiti members under their direction and supervision, so that no beneficiary faces problems. Farmer Hemraj told Chief Minister Shri Chouhan that wheat and mustard crops were sown in about 18 bighas of agricultural land. The entire crop has been destroyed due to the hailstorm, causing substantial financial loss to him. Chief Minister Shri Chouhan assured him that after assessing the loss, relief amount would be given. Chief Minister Shri Chouhan interacted with the farmers and villagers and listened to their problems and gave necessary instructions to the officers. also prevented motorists from using the path to cross over to the other side. One such example is the paid parking space near Netaji Stadium. This stretch starts from the main entrance of Netaji Stadium up to the swimming pool area which is now a paid parking space. If a motorist wants to park his vehicle, he has to pay a fixed amount as per the parking rates. But, if somebody just wants to cross over to the other side and not park his vehicle, then he is not allowed to use this path by the contractor. The contractor has in fact totally blocked the path for the motorists and not allowing motorists to use the path to cross over to the other side. The contractor should understand that he can only charge parking fees and not prevent movement of vehicles from his path. By preventing motorists to use this path by blocking the passage, the contractor is violating his agreement with the Council. The Council should take note of the matter and issue directions to the contractor to allow the motorists to use the path to cross over to the other side, being a capacity is accommodated. CITU suggested that the problem can be solved if more buses and ferry boats are deployed. Chandrachudhan requested the Chief Secretary to instruct the authorities in the Shipping and Transport departments to deploy sufficient buses in Port Blair/

South Andaman areas and ferry boats between Chatham-Bamboofat sector so that all the passengers can be accommodated in the buses and boats which will ensure timely attendance of government employees and workers in offices and workplaces including schools.

are 1.59 LGLPD (7,25,000 liters per day) but according to the reports 1.25 LGLPD (about 5.68 lakh liters) of raw water are being released from the Choudhary Dam to the filter bed of Andaman Public Works Department at Choudhary which is much less than the per day supply of 30% of the raw water available in the dam as per the agreement. This being the reason the residents and various establishments in the Choudhary Gram Panchayat and the nearby villages are facing acute shortage of piped and treated water. The Member of Parliament requested the Lt. Governor to direct the Andaman and Nicobar Command to release the entire share of 30% of raw water released from the Choudhary dam as per the agreement dated 27.11.2005 to the Andaman and Nicobar Administration for its treatment and subsequently supply by the Andaman Public Works Department to the consumers of Choudhary Gram Panchayat and nearby villages consisting of Choudhary Portmout, Badmash Pahad (Gopal Nagar), Bloomsdale (Nimbu bagachar), Nayabashi, Choudhary, Craikabad, Bachada Pahad, Lal Pahad and part of Dhanikhadi. Alternatively, the Member of Parliament suggested the Hon'ble Lt. Governor that since the pumping of raw water from the Rutland Water Project to the Dhanikhadi Dam has commenced, possibilities may be explored to resolve the scarcity of piped water at Choudhary Gram Panchayat and nearby villages by providing raw water from the Dhanikhadi Dam. The Member of Parliament suggested that a scheme to connect the existing filter bed of Mangutian and Choudhary has already been prepared and submitted by the Public Health Engineering Division (PHED), Prothrapur of Andaman Public Works Department and the additional quantity of raw water required for Choudhary and nearby villages is provided from the Dhanikhari Dam to the existing filter bed at Mangutian. The shortage could be managed by a great extent at Choudhary area. Hence the Member of Parliament requested to sanction a proposal to connect the filter beds of Mangutian and Choudhary as also direct the authority concerned to release sufficient additional quantity of raw water for Choudhary Gram Panchayat and nearby villages from the Dhanikhari Dam through the existing pipeline to the filter bed at Mangutian so that the scarcity of piped and treated (potable) water is resolved to great extent in the Choudhary Gram Panchayat and nearby villages.

India's R-value ..

analysis was done by computational modeling by IT Madras Department of Mathematics and Centre of Excellence for Computational Mathematics and Data Science headed by Prof Neelish S Upadhye and Prof S Sundar. According to the data, the R-value of Mumbai was 0.67, Delhi 0.98, Chennai 1.2 and Kolkata 0.56. Explaning further, Dr Jayant Jha, Assistant Professor, Department of Mathematics, IT Madras, said the R-value of Mumbai and Kolkata shows that peak is over there and it is becoming endemic while for Delhi and Chennai it is still close to 1. Thereafter for that could be that as per the new ICMR guidelines they have removed the requirement for contact tracing and therefore there are less infections as earlier," he told PTL. Apex health body the ICMR has issued guidelines as per which contacts of coronavirus patients do not need testing unless identified as high-risk based on age or comorbidities. Jha further said as per their analysis, the coronavirus peak is likely to come in the next 14 days till February 6. The earlier prediction was that the peak of the third wave is likely between February 1 and February 15. The third wave of COVID-19 is being driven by the Omicron variant. India logged 3,33,533 new coronavirus cases on Sunday, raising the tally to 3,92,37,264.

like Hypertension and Diabetes. Out of the total, 6% did not develop any immune protection at all," said Dr Reddy who is also amongst the researchers. The results clearly indicate that younger people have more sustained antibody levels than the elderly population. People above 40 years with co-morbidities like Hypertension and Diabetes have significantly less antibody response after 6 months of getting fully vaccinated. Individuals above 40 years with diabetes and hypertension of both genders may be at a higher risk of SARS-CoV-2 infection and these individuals should be prioritised for a booster dose after 6 months, the study suggested. According to Nageshwar Reddy, the 9-month gap for prevention dose benefits 70% of the population who can retain enough antibody levels beyond 6 months. "However, considering the scale of our country, the 30% people especially those with comorbid conditions like Hypertension, Diabetes, etc., who are more prone to develop an infection after 6 months of getting fully vaccinated should also be considered for the prevention dose," he further added.

Delhi HC on marital rape: Married man has right sanctified to expect reasonable sexual relations with partner

New Delhi, 23rd Jan, 2022: On Friday the Delhi High Court observed that there is a "qualitative difference" in sexual equation between people who are married to each other and between those who are not. The division bench of justices Rajiv Shakher and Chhri Shankar of Delhi High Court also held Senior Advocate Rebecca John, Amicus Curiae in the matter of petitions demanding criminalisation of marital rape, that while "there is a right to expect sexual relations from both sides in a marriage, there is no such right when the parties are not married". Shankar also explained about how he is sceptical of "too much emphasis" on wife's consent made by John, Shankar said Parliament did provide "some kind of rational basis" to justify the exception in IPC 375 to protect husbands. The exception in Section 375 of the Indian Penal Code, says sexual intercourse with a man with his own wife, he will not be under any years of age, is not rape. "We are obfuscating this entire argument, this entire rationale (provided by legislature) by concentrating on consent, consent, consent. We cannot deny that there is a presumption of constitutionality in the law made by Parliament. Specially in a criminal case we don't lightly quash a provision that is not deemed an offence," Shankar said. He wondered if the court can "substitute our sensibilities or sensibilities" and "step into the legislature's shoes" to overturn a legal provision when there is a "prima facie rational basis" for it given by Parliament. Shankar pointed out that there is a difference that can be understood between a marital and non-marital relationship. "There is one case where a man has no right to ask a wife for sex since they are not in a marital, but another case where he has a right sanctioned with marital bond between them, he can expect reasonable sexual relations with partner," Shankar said.

Wettest January In Delhi Since 1950, Says Weather Office

A spell of rain late Saturday night brought Delhi's cumulative precipitation this January to 88.2 mm, which is the highest in the month since 1950, according to the India Meteorological Department (IMD). The city recorded a minimum temperature of 10.5 degrees Celsius on Sunday, three notches above normal. An IMD official said, "It is the highest January rainfall in the 1950-2022 period. Delhi had recorded 63 mm of rainfall till January 10 under the influence of two back-to-back western disturbances." Before this, the capital recorded 79.7 mm of rainfall in 1989 and 73.7 mm in 1953, the IMD data showed.

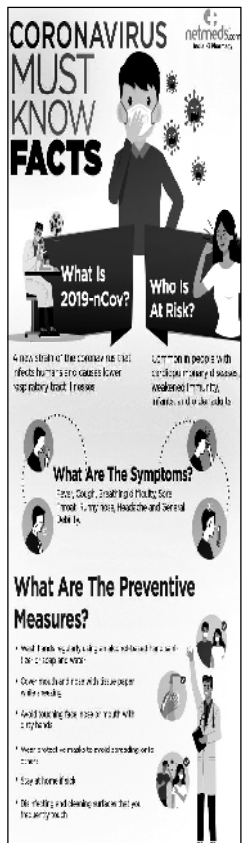

The rainfall had also brought the maximum temperature in the capital down to 14.7 degrees Celsius on Saturday, seven notches below normal and the lowest this season so far. The maximum temperatures have been lower than normal since the second week of January. Minimum temperatures have been close to and above normal. This is largely due to clouds and rain preventing long exposure to sunshine between January 9 and January 19, said Mahesh Palawat, Vice President (Meteorology and Climate Change), SkyMet Weather, said.

"Cold day conditions persisted in large parts of the capital and neighbouring areas till January 16 due to fog and low clouds. The day temperature fell again under the influence of back-to-back western disturbances (WDS) from January 16," he said.

Delhi has recorded six WDS in January this year, as against a normal of three to four WDS in the month, Palawat said.

"Delhi saw three WDS between January 1 and January 9. Three more have impacted the capital since January 16, the latest being on January 21," he said.

Congress Announces 36 Of 37 Candidates For Goa Polls

Goa Election: Going forward, P Chidambaram said that the party will fight "unitedly" and expressed hope that the people of Goa will repose faith in the Congress party to elect their government in the forthcoming assembly elections.

Senior Congress leader P Chidambaram on Sunday said that the party has announced 36 candidates of 37 for the upcoming assembly elections in Goa and the candidate for the last seat will also be revealed soon. "Congress has announced 36 of the 37 candidates and shortly we will announce the candidate for that last seat. Yesterday we met with all the 36 candidates. The candidates have pledged that, having regard to the recent history of Goa, they will remain united and serve the full term of five years as members and if elected as MLAs of the Congress party, then we will run a united government," Mr Chidambaram said while addressing a press conference on Sunday. Going forward, he said that the party will fight "unitedly" and expressed hope that the people of Goa will repose faith in the Congress party to elect their government in the forthcoming assembly elections. Responding to a question on the dropping of 'Abide with Me' hymn from the Beating Retreat ceremony on January 29 as a part of the Republic Day celebrations, the Congress leader said, "It is an old hymn going back to 1847. Mahatma Gandhi's favourite hymn was 'Abide with Me'. Since we became a republic in 1950, on every Republic Day celebration's last day, there is a ceremony called Beating the Retreat and it will always end with a march to the tune of 'Abide with Me'. It is very sad that an old hymn that is not just a Christian hymn but a secular hymn, the government in the 75th year of our independence has decided to abandon the hy mn. It hurts a lot of people."

Answering a query on Trinamool Congress (TMC) national general secretary Abhishek Banerjee's remark "every vote to Congress is a vote to BJP", Mr Chidambaram said, "I hold a very humble position in the Congress party. I am not equal to the General Secretary of the All India Trinamool Congress. So I can't engage in a verbal exchange with the distinguished MP from Bengal. All I can say is that Congress has the strength, membership, deep root in Goan society and past record and history of service to the Goan people. When Goan people vote for Congress, they know they will get a Congress government." Responding to another question on Congress' decision of announcing a Chief Ministerial face for Goa Assembly elections, Mr Chidambaram said, "We will consult all the candidates after the nomination process is over. We will take into account their view, whether they want to be announced before the elections or a CM to be announced after the election. That view will be conveyed to the AICC and we will take a decision. We are open to either." Promoted Listen to the latest songs, only on JioSaavn.com Goa will go to the Assembly polls on February 14. The counting of votes will take place on March 10.

Omicron In Community Transmission Stage, Dominant Strain In Cities

Short for Indian SARS-CoV-2 Genomics Consortium, INSACOG checks variations in coronavirus across the nation to help understand how it spreads and evolves, and to suggest the best possible public health response.

The Omicron variant of the coronavirus is in the community transmission stage in the country and has become dominant in several metros where new cases have been spiking exponentially, INSACOG said in its latest bulletin. Short for Indian SARS-CoV-2 Genomics Consortium, INSACOG checks variations in coronavirus across the nation to help understand how it spreads and evolves, and to suggest the best possible public health response. The centre's Covid research body also said BA.2 lineage, an infectious sub-variant of Omicron, has been detected in a considerable fraction in India. While most Omicron cases so far have been asymptomatic or mild, hospitalisations and ICU cases have increased in the current wave and the threat level remains unchanged, INSACOG said in its January 10 bulletin that was released on Sunday. "Omicron is now in community transmission in India and has become dominant in multiple metros, where new cases have been rising exponentially. BA.2 lineage is a substantial fraction in India and S gene dropout based screening is thus likely to give high false negative," it said. S gene dropout is a genetic variation like that of Omicron. "The recently reported B.1.640.2 lineage is being monitored. There is no evidence of rapid spread and while it has features of immune escape, its currently not a variant of concern. So far, no case has been detected in India," the INSACOG said.

The INSACOG, in its bulletin of January 3 which was also released on Sunday, also said Omicron is now in community transmission in India and has become dominant in Delhi and Mumbai where new cases have been rising rapidly. "Further spread of Omicron in India is now expected to be through internal transmission, not foreign travellers, and a revised sampling and sequencing strategy of INSACOG is being worked out to address genomic surveillance objectives in the wake of dynamic changing scenario of virus infection," the INSACOG said.

"COVID appropriate behaviour and vaccination are main shields against all forms of mutations of SARS-CoV-2 virus," it said.

The INSACOG, under the Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, reports genomic surveillance of SARS-CoV-2 across the country through sequencing of samples from sentinel sites and also deployed state-wise district analysis for some states.

A total of 1,50,710 samples have been sequenced and 1,27,697 samples have been analysed so far by INSACOG.

Election Rally Ban Extended Till Jan 31, Small Meetings OK In Some Areas

The Election Commission has announced relaxations for public meetings for Phase 1 from January 28 and for Phase 2 from February 1.

The ban on roadshows and rallies for next month's state polls was extended till the end of this month on Saturday by the Election Commission but with certain relaxations for the first two phases of voting due on February 10 and 14. The decision came after the election body held a meeting earlier in the day with the Union Health Secretary and the Chief Health Secretaries of the five states to review the restrictions given in the surge in coronavirus cases. The Election Commission had banned election rallies and roadshows until January 15 and later extended the curbs till January 22 for the five states holding elections from next month - Uttar Pradesh, Punjab, Uttarakhand, Manipur and Goa.

However, this time, the election body has allowed relaxations for physical public meetings of political parties or contesting candidates for Phase 1 from January 28 and for Phase 2 from February 1.

It said that the limit of five people for door-to-door campaigning has been raised to 10, excluding security personnel and video vans for publicity permitted at certain open spaces with COVID-19 restrictions.

Since contesting candidates for Phase 1 elections will be finalised on January 27, the Commission has decided to allow physical meetings in designated open spaces with up to 500 people or 50 per cent of the ground's capacity or the prescribed limit set by state disaster management - whichever is lower, from January 28 till February 8.

And for Phase 2, contesting candidates for which will be finalised by January 31, the Commission has decided to allow the same relaxation from February 1 till February 12.

India reported 3.37 lakh new COVID-19 cases - nearly 10,000 more than yesterday - and 488 deaths in the last 24 hours. The positivity rate stood at 17.22 per cent.
