MESSAGE

I am delighted to learn that Department of Civil Supplies & Consumer Affairs is observing "National Consumer Day" in these Islands, alongside the entire country on December 24, 2023, under the theme "Consumer Protection in the era of E-Commerce and Digital Trade".

In this era of swift transformations, across various aspects of life, particularly in commercial transactions, it is imperative to ensure that consumers not only comprehend their rights but also find protection from emerging adversities and challenges.

In this digital landscape, where transactions happen at the click of a button, our commitment to safeguarding consumer interests must remain unwavering. Let us prioritize transparency in online transactions, implement robust data protection measures, and advocate for fair business practices that instill confidence in consumers during their digital interactions, while also making them aware of fraudulent practices that may surface in online transactions.

As consumers navigate the vast realm of e-commerce, let us collectively work towards creating an environment where every digital platform is highly secure and user-friendly. By staying informed, demanding accountability, and advocating for more robust consumer protection measures, we can shape a secure digital marketplace that is not only innovative and trustworthy but also encourages seamless cashless transactions.

Empowered consumers form the cornerstone of a flourishing digital economy. My heartfelt greetings to all the Islanders on the occasion of National Consumer Day.
