GREETINGS

Today, as we observe the International Day of Persons with Disabilities, I send warm wishes to our cherished community members living with disabilities in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands. It's a day to celebrate the resilience and contributions of our Divyang brothers and sisters, who are a vital and vibrant part of our societal fabric.

Recognizing that disability is a condition, not a limitation, requires collective consciousness and social empathy. This special day is dedicated to advocating for the rights and welfare of persons with disabilities, fostering their inclusion at every sphere of societal and developmental activities.

Let's join hands in our commitment to uplift and integrate our Divyang brethren, ensuring they enjoy equal opportunities in economic and social realms, just like their fellow citizens.
