Car Nicobar, Feb. 15

A three days exposure visit-cum-training programme on 'quality seed and planting material in agri-horticultural crops' for Nicobarese tribal farmers was organized by ICAR-CIARI from Feb. 7 to 9, 2024. The programme was inaugurated by Dr. Eaknath B. Chakurkar, Director, ICAR-CIARI in the presence of Course Director, Dr. P. K. Singh, Principal Scientist and Head (-/c), Division of Horticulture and Crop Improvement and Course Coordinators Dr. Pooja Bohra and Dr. Ajit Waman.

In his inaugural address, the Director appealed to all the trainees to take maximum benefit from the programme. Dr. Pooja Bohra organized field visit for the participants to various mother blocks of horticultural crops to orient them about the significance of selecting right mother plants and their management while Dr. Ajit Waman provided the trainees with hands on experience and demonstration on various methods of propagation at the Horticultural Plants Propagation Unit of the Institute.

The trainees visited Bloomsdale farm at Chouldhari wherein they were briefed about the seed production and storage techniques in rice and pulses, utility of broad bed furrow system, types of farm machineries and their uses etc.

On the last day of the training, trainees were taken to the Horticultural Research Farm at Sippighat where demonstration on nursery and production techniques of coconut, arecanut and spices was made. Farmers also interacted with the scientists and were facilitated with planting material and farm inputs, a press release from CIARI said.

arm of law is reaching to everyone particularly to those who never thought they will be held accountable to law."

Asserting the importance of respecting rule of law, VP stated "respect for law is respect for nationalism, respect for law is respect for democracy and respect for law is respect for meritocracy, respect for law is curbing corruption."

Calling upon those in positions of power and authority, Shri Dhankhar emphasized, "it is the prime obligation of all particularly those in positions of power and authority to set an example by showing respect to law".

Underlining India's economic rise during the last decade, Shri Dhankhar said that, "A decade ago our country was taken to be part of fragile five, a burden on the global economy... but now we are among the big five global economies of the world".

Referring to the inclusion of the African Union as a permanent member of G20, Shri Dhankhar stressed that now India's voice is heard at the global level and the global image of our nation has been enhanced. "India has emerged as the voice of the global south", he added.

Mentioning several recent achievements like successful landing of Chandrayan-3 on south pole of the Moon and the passage of 'Nari Shakti Vandan Adhiniyam' mandating one third reservation for women in the parliament and state legislatures, the Vice-President stressed, "after a long gap we are in an era of hope and possibilities... now is the time to blossom independence".

Describing the students and youth as marathon runners of Bharat@2047, VP highlighted that our Bharat is amongst very few nations that have taken lead in channelizing the potential of disruptive technologies such as quantum computing and green hydrogen mission.

Calling youth as engines of growth, architects of sustainability, and guardians of a thriving future, the Vice-President insisted that enormous opportunities and vistas are available for them today.

He urged the youth to never fear failure and implement their ideas boldly. He called upon them to make use of and catalyze the opportunities presented by the disruptive technologies like artificial intelligence, quantum computing, 6G and machine learning. "We are living in times of disruptive technologies...we are at the cusp of technological revolution", he further added.
