PM addresses 'Chintan Shivir' of Home Ministers of States

'One Nation, One Police Uniform' will give a common identity to law enforcement: PM

We have to come up with technological advancement to prevent the spreading of fake news

New Delhi, Oct. 28 (PTB)

The Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi addressed the 'Chintan Shivir' of Home Ministers of States today via video conferencing. Addressing the gathering, the Prime Minister complimented the preparations of the law and order personnel for a peaceful atmosphere during the festival season. He said that the Chintan Shivir is a prime example of cooperative federalism. The Prime Minister said even though law and order are the responsibility of the States as per the Constitution, they are equally related to the unity and integrity of the country. "Every State should learn from each other, take inspiration from each other, work for the betterment of the country, this is the spirit of the Constitution and it is also our responsibility towards the countrymen", he said.

Referring to the ongoing Amrit Kaal, the Prime Minister said that during the Amrit Kaal, an Amrit generation will emerge carrying the essence of the 'Panch Pran'. "The Panch Pran' must be the guiding force for good governance," he said. The Prime Minister said that when the strength of the country increases, then the power of every citizen and every family in the country will get a boost. He said, "This is good governance where benefits reach even the last person standing in the queue in every State. The Prime Minister emphasized the link between the law and order system and the development of the States. "It is very important for the entire law and order system to be reliable. Its trust and perception among the public are very important", he pointed out. He noted the growing identity of NDRF and SDRF during times of natural calamities. Similarly, the arrival of police at the spot of a crime is taken as the arrival of the Government and the Police's reputation got a boost during the Corona period also, the Prime Minister said. He stressed that there is no dearth of commitment and perception of the police needs to be further strengthened. Guiding them in this regard should be our ongoing process, he emphasised.

The Prime Minister pointed out that crime is no longer localised and instances of interstate, international crimes are going up. That is why mutual cooperation between State agencies and between Central and State agencies is becoming crucial. He pointed out, whether it is cybercrime or the use of drone technologies for the smuggling of weapons or drugs, the Government needs to keep working towards new technologies to tackle the menace. "The law and order system can be improved with the help of smart technology", the Prime Minister remarked. He said 5G, along with its benefits, brings the need for a heightened alert. He requested the Chief Ministers and Home Ministers to seriously assess the need for technology, going beyond the constraints of the budget as this technology will percolate the confidence of security among common citizens. The Prime Minister mentioned the Police Technology Mission of the Central Government, however, he stressed the need for a common platform as differing technologies of different

States do not talk to each other. "We should have a pan India outlook, all our best practices should be interoperable and should have a common link, " he said. He asked the State agencies to develop capabilities in forensic science and take full advantage of the National Forensic Sciences University of Gandhinagar.

The Prime Minister asked the gathering to consider a single uniform for the police of the States of the entire country. This will not only ensure quality products due to the scale but also will give a common identity to law enforcement as citizens will recognize police personnel anywhere in the country. States can have their number or insignia. "One Nation, One Police Uniform', I am just putting forward this as a thought for your consideration", he said. Similarly, he emphasised the need to think about developing special capabilities for tourism-related policing. He said tourists are the biggest and fastest ambassadors of the reputation of any place.
