students. Through this portal, the performance of each student was tracked and data was collected for the learning gaps in various subjects like English, Maths, Social Studies, Science etc at different levels. Remedial classes were organized for the students to enhance their learnings. This year, the Education Department has revamped the PAHAL initiative as PAHAL Plus, with various positive and transformative changes, he said.

The Commissioner-cum-Secretary said, progress of learning outcomes of all the children is being assessed by the team of Teachers in each cluster and the results of this detailed assessment will be declared by the 8th of next month through the upgraded version of the portal 'Pahal Plus'. This forms the basis of the monthly report card of children, as well as teachers. The performance of each student will also be discussed in the Parent Teachers Meeting on the 4th Saturday of every month. Customized remedial classes and reading material will also be provided by the teachers, he said.

PAHAL Plus project focuses on continuous monitoring and evaluation of student's performance, timely and need-based remedial interventions, involvement of teachers and parents in addressing the gap areas and systematic and objective progress assessment. Through these end-to-end measures and intensive monitoring, the PAHAL Plus initiative will go a long way in helping the Department achieve the goals of the 'NIPUN Bharat Mission', he said adding that PAHAL Plus is only one of the several transformative efforts being undertaken by the Education Department to ensure the quality education. Under the Govt of India scheme, Department is going to establish 'Vidya Samiksha Kendras', which will provide a paradigm shift in the monitoring of each and every spectrum of learning. The department is also working on creating online teaching material for all subjects for all classes, which will be available to the students through dedicated channels, as well as social media platforms.

The inaugural function concluded with the vote of thanks proposed by the Secretary Education, Shri Yash Chaudhary, IAS.
